

WHERE will you purchase your Holiday Presents?

A GOOD PLAN is followed by ALL who are alive to their own interest! The fact that the Crescent Drug Store is rushed all day long, is pretty good evidence that WIDE AWAKE PEOPLE know and appreciate a good thing when they see it. We're at the front door of another Holiday Season. Few words need be used to tell the husband, the wife, the brother, the sister, the lover, the friend, the chum, why the Crescent Drug Store is the place to depend upon for Holiday Presents. "Be it always understood, with the Crescent Stamp, it's Good!"

WHAT EVERYBODY SAYS:

If You Buy It at the Crescent, It Is Pure.

If You Buy It at the Crescent, It Is Cheap.

ARE YOU going to give any presents this Year?

WILL YOU let us help you do your shopping?

CAN YOU afford to buy before looking at our wonderful bargains?

Cut Glass Bottles.

Drug stores, dry goods stores, and bazaar stores, in Newark, keep a very small assortment of Cut Glass bottles. All unite in saying: "We cannot sell CUT GLASS BOTTLES; people will not pay the price. They are too costly!" Realizing this sentiment, we started a "still hunt" last summer, and in July attended an auction sale of an over-stocked and "hard-up" importer of CUT GLASS BOTTLES! We purchased his entire stock of one style of two, four and eight ounce cut glass bottles and sold at an advance to Western dealers over one-half of our purchase. The remaining half we kept for our Perfumery Customers.

HERE ARE THE PRICES:

2 oz. Cut Glass Bottles, 49c; Cost to Import, 77c } We have a Moderate
4 oz. " " " 59c; " " " $1.12 } Quantity Only.
8 oz. " " " 86c; " " " 1.33 }

Come and examine them even if you don't buy. We have other styles of Cut Glass Bottles in various sizes, from 60 cents to $4.88 each. In reply to a query, we have to say that it costs almost as much to "cut" a two ounce bottle as it does an eight inch bottle, hence the slight difference in price.

JAPANESE GOODS!

Our line is complete. Porcelains, Bronzes, Lacquers, Screens, Decorating Goods, etc. We guarantee prices cheaper than you can purchase in New York city and much cheaper than in Newark. SURE!

A large assortment of Antique Cut and Pressed Bohemian Glass Bottles, hand painted and emblazoned, all colors, very beautiful and rare. Prices, 20 cents to 60 cents, and can not be purchased elsewhere at double the price.

Glass Stoppered Bottles.PRESSED WARE.

Square and round and fancy shapes, with cut stoppers, 17 cents to $1.15. Also same style with pressed stoppers, 15 cents to 95 cents.

Pitchers with cut stoppers, 6 ounce, 25 cents each. The foregoing comprise 1, 2, 4, 6, 8 and 16 ounces each, in every variety and can not be purchased in Newark or New York for twice the price we ask. SURE!

PERFUME ATOMIZERS.

A large assortment of antique and fancy decorated French Perfume Atomizers from 69 cents to $4.97 each. You can not buy them anywhere else as low.

Where Do You Buy Your Perfumery?

Read our prices below on perfumery and then come and try our goods. Remember that if you are not satisfied with the quality of our perfumery, you are privileged to return the same and we will refund your money. We guarantee our perfumery to be better than any other American Brand and just as good as Lubin's or Atkinson's. Our SACHET POWDERS are the STRONGEST. Everything is of the very best and the prices, you will notice, are much lower than Dry Goods Bazaar Stores, and VERY, VERY much lower than Drug Store prices.

WHERE?

Else can you purchase WHITE ROSE or LILY OF THE VALLEY HANDKERCHIEFS EXTRACTS as sweet and strong as we sell for 21 cents an ounce, including a Handsome Glass Stoppered Bottle?

WHERE?

Else can you purchase VIOLET SACHET POWDER for 18 cents an ounce as sweet and strong as we sell.

Below we append a regular schedule of prices on perfumery, so that price from one ounce to one pint can be determined at a glance.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, December 12.

The alleged snubbing of Speaker Crisp at the Reform Club banquet in New York by President-elect Cleveland's friends has created a sensation in Washington, and all sorts of predictions, some of them ridiculous, are made of what will come out of it. Mr. Crisp will not talk much about it himself, but his friends are doing enough talking, and some of it is fighting talk, too. Mr. Crisp admits that he prepared a speech in advance, and furnished the press with copies of it in anticipation of delivering it at the banquet, and that he was not asked to speak. The anti-Crisp Democrats say that this snub is a notice that Cleveland folks do not approve of Mr. Crisp, and that they will have a candidate for Speaker of the next House, and it looks to an unprejudiced man as though they are in the neighborhood of being right.

Every session of Congress is, according to its members, before it convenes, to be a "working session," but if this one is to develop any hustling qualities, it has got to "get a move on" its first week's pace, which has been of the regulation leisurely before-the-holidays brand. It has done and is doing lots of talking about what may be done at this session, but the only actual practical step that has been taken towards really doing anything is the reporting to the House of one of the regular appropriation bills—the Military. True, a number of bills have been introduced, but that does not indicate progress, as the calendars of both House and Senate are already crowded with bills to such an extent that not one-twentieth of them can possibly be disposed of.

Notwithstanding conference committees of Democratic Senators, appointed to help elect new Democratic Senators, and meetings of prominent Republicans held to devise means to elect new Republican Senators, it looks as though the third party was the only one which actually wishes to gain any Senatorial recruits; at least that is what one is bound to infer when he hears Democrats wishing that the Republicans may secure enough of the doubtful Senators to give them control of the Senate in the next Congress, and Republicans making the same wishes for the Democrats.

Senator Teller says it is a waste of time to talk about repealing the present or Sherman Silver Law until something better can be offered the silver man in its place. He still hopes that something may come of the International Monetary Conference, but does not expect it before spring. If the conference fails entirely, he says, Congress must then necessarily tackle the silver question and adopt a law that shall be permanent.

The employees of the Government Printing-office, particularly those who work at night, say the eight-hour law curtails their earnings to such an extent as to be hardship, and they propose asking Congress to amend the law so as to exempt that office.

Ex-Senator Warner Miller and a number of other gentlemen interested in the passage of the bill providing for a Government guarantee of $100,000,000 of the bonds of the Nicaragua Canal Company are in town talking up the advantages of their scheme. The bill is all right as far as the Senate is concerned, but it will have a hard time getting through the House, if it ever does.

The friends of the several Territories now seeking admission as States are discussing the feasibility of forming a combine to support an omnibus bill admitting Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Utah, and they believe that it is possible to push such a measure through both House and Senate, although it may be necessary, some of them think, to substitute a home-rule Territorial government for Utah, instead of Statehood, in order to get votes enough. The idea is to be talked up in the Republican and Democratic caucuses to be held shortly.

Representative Holman does not propose that any public building bills shall be acted upon at this session if he can help it, and although his party sometimes sits down rather hard upon his extra economical ideas, there are reasons for the belief that he will come very near to having his way this time.

The House Committee on the Election of President and Vice-President is considering several resolutions providing for constitutional amendments changing the method of electing President and Vice-President from the Electoral College to the people direct.

According to an estimate made by the Second Auditor of the Treasury, it would require $200,000,000 to pay the claims, if the bill to pay the soldiers of the late war the difference between the value of the greenbacks in which their salaries were paid during the war and gold at that time should be enacted into a law.
